

Our global declaration

We are Methodist and United church Christians.

We believe that we are a part of God's creation, and that we must act as stewards through sharing God's love with all of creation.

We are climate activists.

We believe that the climate crisis is the greatest threat to life on earth and must be tackled.

We are a global family.

We believe that we must learn from one another and support those in need of help.

We are led by youth.

We believe that we must listen to the young, and ensure they have a future to look forward to.

We are calling on world leaders to act at COP26.

We believe that COP26 must be a turning point in the movement towards climate justice.

We believe that the nations of the world should work together at COP26 to meaningfully and urgently reduce their emissions, and to strive for fair agreements, where the highest emitters take the most action.

We believe that COP26 should agree and commit the resources for vulnerable nations to be equipped with the financial support they need to adapt to the challenges posed by climate change, to mitigate their own emissions, and to rebuild from climate related loss and damage.

We call on world leaders to use COP26 to ensure that everyone's voice is heard, and that brave and committed action is taken.

We believe in Climate Justice for All.
